DRAMATIC HARBOUR RESCUE IN SQUALL

Five Men Cling To Logs At Lyeemun Pass

The Government tug Kau Sing figured in a dramatic rescue in the harbour in the vicinity of Lyeemun Pass yesterday in the course of her cruising.

The Kau Sing succeeded in rescuing five men who were clinging perilously to two wooden logs on which they had drifted from Tokawan, Hungnam.

It appears that the men were engaged in removing logs from the Wong Tong Chi Timberyard where they were employed.

During a squall, two rafts of logs, on which were the five workmen, were cast away and drifted across Kowloon Bay to Cha Ko Ling, near Lyeemun Pass, where the Kau Sing effected the rescue.

The Kau Sing could not get near to the logs owing to shallow water and a boat was lowered for the men.

The five men were brought back to Kowloon on the rescue tug and were none the worse for their experience.

DR. KOTEWALL IN A CABARET

Presents Prizes To Dance Hostesses

FUNDS RAISED FOR FAMINE RELIEF

The China Emporium Cabaret was the scene of a pleasant function on Saturday evening when the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall distributed silver cups, presented by the management, to the dance hostesses, who had helped most in raising funds for the Flood Relief Commission, on June 30, when it was decided by the management and dance hostesses, to donate the total proceeds of the evening's entertainment to the flood victims.

Before presenting the prizes, Dr. Kotewall expressed the hope that other cabarets in Hong Kong would emulate the example of the China Emporium in doing their duty to raise funds for a good cause.

Concluding, Dr. Kotewall said, "It is a pleasure to be with you all this evening. In fact, it is the first time that I have entered a cabaret, although I was one of the authorities who had something to do in permitting the existence of cabarets in Hong Kong. Now,

SHOOTING INCIDENT AT CENTRAL

Another shooting incident occurred on Friday about 8 p.m. when, it is alleged, an attempt was made to shoot an Indian Police Sergeant at Police Headquarters.

A Chinese, who was formerly employed as a "boy" at Police Headquarters is alleged to have fired a rifle at Police Sergeant B17 Natch Khan. The latter was lying on his cot when the rifle was fired at him, but he was not injured. However, the Chinese surrendered himself at the Charge Room, being apparently under the impression that he had killed the Sergeant. He was taken into custody.

Having seen how well a cabaret can be conducted, I may visit one again in the near future, after, of course, having learned how to dance." (Applause and laughter).

Mr. F. X. Remedios, on behalf of the owners of the China Emporium Cabaret thanked Dr. Kotewall.

The total proceeds was $310.40 and the honour of the first prize was snared by Miss Leung Tim-tim, and Miss Wong Fung-ling. The second and the third prizes went to Miss Wong Shap-shun and Miss Woo Man-ying, respectively. Other winners were the Misses Wong Yip, Wong Chan, Wong Pui-sap, Chan Wei-fen, Cheung Mei-mei, Julie Kwok and Yang Mei-mei.

HUMANITARIAN ACTIVITIES IN SPAIN

Speeches By The Premier And Mr. Eden

London, July 3.

Emphasis on the humanitarian activities in Spain were made by the Premier, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, and the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, in speeches this afternoon.

Speaking at Edgbaston, Mr. Chamberlain said that during the past few weeks nearly forty thousand Spanish refugees were escorted with safety under the protection of the British flag and before the lamentable affair ends doubtless thousands of Spanish women and children will have cause to thank God for the presence of British ships in Spanish waters.

Mr. Chamberlain enunciated the four-fold programme. First, to keep peace; second, to make the country so strong that nobody will treat her with anything but respect; third, maintain and increase trade and prosperity; fourthly to continue the improvement of the people's conditions.

We want nothing from Spain, whatever it's for the government, but friendly relations, declared Mr. Eden, speak at Coughton, Warwickshire. If a humanitarian balance sheet framed on a party basis were drawn up it would probably be found that approximately equal numbers on each side benefited by the work of the British diplomatic and Consular representatives and ships. Conversations were proceeding whereby it is hoped that it will be possible in the near future to evacuate a number of Spaniards in Madrid from Valencia in a British hospital ship. On the other hand disinterestedness in internal Spanish matters must not be interpreted as disinterestedness where British interests are concerned on land or sea frontiers in Spain or trade routes thereabouts. Anglo-French relations, said Mr. Eden, were never better than they were to-day and rested on an ideal basis. "Understanding, uniting us, cannot easily be broken and we hope that the circle of friendship may be widened, because neither wishes to exclude others from there. Another element of encouragement was the British relations with the United States which were excellent."

COLONY ESCAPES TYPHOON

STORM ENTERS COAST IN VICINITY OF BREAKER POINT

SQUALLS BRING OVER THREE INCHES OF RAIN IN FIVE HOURS

HONG KONG EXPERIENCED SQUALLS YESTERDAY FOLLOWING THE PASSING OF A TYPHOON, THE FIRST OF THE SEASON, IN THE VICINITY OF THE COLONY. THE INTENSE HEAT ON SATURDAY, WHEN THE TEMPERATURE SOARED TO 92 DEGREES IN THE SHADE, A NEW HIGH RECORD FOR THE SUMMER, GAVE INDICATION OF THE APPROACH OF THE TYPHOON AND AT 1.30 A.M. YESTERDAY THE NO. 1 LOCAL SIGNAL WAS HOISTED, AT THE ROYAL OBSERVATORY, SIGNIFYING THAT A DEPRESSION OR TYPHOON EXISTS WHICH MAY POSSIBLY AFFECT THE COLONY.

At 8.25 a.m. yesterday, the No. 5 signal (gale expected from the expected from the south-west) at north-west) was displayed and this was changed to No. 6 (gale 3.19 p.m.

Yesterday morning it was reported that at 8 a.m. the typhoon passed 50 miles north of Pratas Shoal and the centre of the storm was then placed at 180 miles east by south of Hong Kong, moving W.N.W., and threatening the coast between the Colony and Swatow.

At 12.03 p.m. the Royal Observatory announced that the typhoon was within 60 miles of latitude 22 deg. N, longitude 117 deg. E, moving north-west, this indicating that the gale was directly east of the Colony.

Heavy rain fell throughout the afternoon and, at 5.20 p.m. the following report was issued by the Observatory:—

"The typhoon probably entered the coast in the vicinity of Breaker Point about 3 p.m. and is now situated about 120 miles at the north-east of Hong Kong. It will probably fill up."

The weather forecast was "south-west gales, moderating; rain and squalls expected to continue."

There was considerable activity in the harbour following the hoisting of the No. 5 signal yesterday morning. Many of the liners proceeded to Kowloon Bay some under their own steam others towed by the Kowloon Docks

NIGHT STAR

Repairs Completed

Following the completion of extensive repairs, the Star Ferry Company vessel Night Star left Kowloon Docks yesterday morning and was towed to the Ewloon Wharf. She will be back on the regular cross-harbour service this week.

The Night Star sank on April 14 as a result of a collision with the Meridian Star. The former vessel was badly holed and returned to the Hong Kong wharf, where, after the passengers had disembarked, she sank fifteen minutes later.

Salvage operations were put in hand the following day and it was not until a month later that she was successfully raised and taken to Kowloon Docks for repairs.

DEMONSTRATION FLIGHT

The demonstration flight of the Airspeed "Envoy" which will be delivered to Marshal Li Chung-yen, Commander-in-Chief of the Kwangsi forces, took place at Kai Tak yesterday morning.

Several Chinese ladies, relatives of the Government officials of Kwangsi, were passengers of the demonstration flights.

The dimensions of the machine are as follows: span 52 ft. 0 ins., length 34 ft. 6 ins., height 9 ft. 8 ins.

The engines consisted of two Armstrong Siddeley motors of 350 H.P. each and can go at a top speed of 210 m.p.h., cruising speed of 192 m.p.h., and economical cruising speed of 175 m.p.h. She can also traverse a range of 1,000 miles non-stop.

Her weight when loaded to capacity is 8,300 lbs. She can accommodate from six to eight passengers with ample luggage space and toilet.

She is equipped with the most modern "blind" flying instruments, Radio, Homing Device and Oxygen Apparatus for high altitude flying. The type of machine is similar to the one recently delivered to His Majesty King George VI.

Cotton Exchange Scandal

Shanghai, July 4.
A cotton exchange scandal, allegedly involving public figures, is foreseen here in connection with the recent serious confusion in the local cotton exchange.

Because of the serious nature of the affair, the highest Government official concerned, Industry Minister Wu Tsi-chang, has come to Shanghai personally to conduct the investigation.

Minister Wu is said to have begun his examination of documentary evidence of profiteering in the Shanghai Cotton Exchange.

Vice-Minister of Industry Ting Tien-ko was sent to investigate when news of the confusion was first received. But when Mr. Ting found that some of the leading financial and Government figures were involved, he petitioned the Industry Minister to take charge of the investigation personally.—Union News.

MALARIA MENACE IN KOWLOON

Questions Before Urban Council

At to-morrow's meeting of the Urban Council Dr. R. A. de Castro Basto, pursuant to notice, will ask the following questions:—

(1) Has the attention of the Council been drawn to an extensive report forwarded to Government by the Kowloon Residents' Association on 13th August 1936, complaining of the insanitary conditions prevailing in the large residential area at Kowloon City, which constitute a serious menace to the public health generally, and particularly to the inmates of three large institutions in the vicinity, namely, the Kowloon Hospital, the Central British School, and Le Salle College?

RECEPTION ABOARD JAPANESE CRUISER

Rear-Admiral Kobayashi And Officers Entertain

GOVERNOR AMONG THE GUESTS

It was a great pity that typhoon weather should come to mar the reception given by Rear-Admiral Sonosuke Kobayashi on board H. I. J. M. S. Ashigara yesterday afternoon. The rain was coming down in an absolute deluge when the time for the party arrived, but in spite of wind and weather a great number of people managed to get down to the pier, where a succession of launches were waiting to take visitors on board.

Once on board a spirit of friendship and good feeling reigned supreme. The Admiral, the Captain and his officers all extended a very warm welcome.

An awning blight with flags and bunting kept out the worst of the rain and a life-size Japanese cherry tree, which seemed to be in full flower in the centre of the deck gave a delightful effect.

Down below the guests found refreshments waiting in the ward-room while the whole ship was flung open for inspection. Many Japanese ladies (the wives of members of the Japanese Residents Association) were there to greet the visitors, and to offer tea, beer and sake, and other tempting and unusual delicacies of Japan and all looked so dainty and charming in their graceful kimono and richly brocaded obi's.

His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government was there, with Mrs. N. L. Smith, also many Senior Officers of the British Army and Army Members of Council, and many other distinguished guests.

Having come straight from England and the Coronation festivities the officers of the Japanese cruiser had much of interest to relate. Language is always the difficulty, but in this case we found that many of the officers spoke perfect English, besides which there was on board Professor Chikao Fujisawa who is the Goodwill Ambassador of Japan, and particularly well fitted for the post, since he was for three years at Geneva with the League of Nations.

THE WEATHER OF JUNE

From the 1st to the 5th of the month easterly winds prevailed and temperature was below normal, owing to a moderate anticyclone which moved eastward from China to Japan.

Pressure was low to the north and west of Hong Kong from the 6th to the 18th, and southerly winds prevailed with very warm weather.

From the 19th to the 27th a persistent trough of low pressure extended across the northern part of the China Sea. This pressure distribution was unusual for the time of year, and gave rise to easterly winds with temperatures below normal.

During the last 3 days of the month there was a return to southerly winds and warm weather. The mean temperature for the month was 81.4° F. which is 0.4° above normal. A maximum of 90.0° was recorded on the 30th, and a minimum of 71.0° on the 1st. The mean relative humidity was 85 per cent against a normal of 83 per cent.

The total sunshine amounted to 120 hours. Although this amount is 44 hours less than the normal, there were only 3 completely sunless days.

Rain was recorded on every day except 4, the total being 13.27 inches against a normal of 15.52 inches. The heaviest fall in one

Suppression Of Opium Divans

Discussions In Advance Stage

The move of totally suppressing all the opium divans in the Colony is, it is said, at its final stage.

Representations to Government, urging legislation for the total suppression of divans, whether licensed or otherwise, are likely to be made in the course of the next week or two, when proposals indicating the lines upon which Government might act have been agreed as the result of consultations.

High police officials are believed to have been brought into the discussions recently, as the idea has reached a more advanced stage.

Chief objective in the move is the blotting out of the illicit divans, which are known to supply heroin as well as opium to addicts, and which are generally suspected of being the breeding-places of crime.

hour was 1.07 inches at 4 p.m. on the 26th.

The maximum wind velocity in a gust was 43 m.p.h. at 10 a.m. on the 17th.

THREE LANDSLIDES

Three landslides both in the island and the mainland were reported yesterday. The slides in Stubbs Road and Gascoigne Road were not serious while one which occurred in May Road was reported to be dangerous to traffic.

CHALLENGE TO CHRISTIANITY

Cathedral Sermon

QUESTIONS TO BE ANSWERED

Preaching in St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning, the Rev. H. W. Haines said, in part:—

I hope to consider during July the relevance of the moral teaching of Jesus to our life. In the first half of the Church's year from Advent to Trinity, the events and immediate results of the Life, Death and Resurrection absorb our minds, but now for nearly six months we must turn to questions of the Christian life. Naturally we listen first to Jesus' own words. He spoke with authority and not as the scribe. Is that still true? Are the words of Jesus still authoritative for us? There are questions to be answered in personal relation concerning justice and forgiveness. There are the series of questions involved in positions of responsibility concerning duty to defaulting subordinates, duties of teachers to pupils, of committees to members. There is a group of questions affecting men and women such as marriage, divorce, contraception.

There are the questions belonging to industry housing, wage rate, hour of labour, the questions of law and the penal system with the community. There are the questions of international relations collective security, armaments, non-intervention and the rights of subject peoples. Everyone of these groups of questions brings the need for opinion and, at length, decision to all of us at some time. Has the moral teaching of Jesus any light to give us in answering them?

CHALLENGE

There is incomparably the most imperative challenge facing Christianity today. To find and make plain the relevance of Christianity at this point is the first task of the disciple and preacher today.

To some the answer is immediately clear. It is to them only necessary to point to one word of Jesus and "cuius est questio."

A score of questions due to the development in scientific progress, or "political" organisation, vex us today, but cannot be referred to Christ's pronouncements. But, in fact, this verbal loyalty to Christ has done great harm because it has, for others, limited his authority to exactly those areas of life on which he did pronounce. It in our day the moral direction exercised by the Pope affected his followers only in matters on which he had spoken "ex Cathedra" you would see a similar limitation of authority—and one equally unfortunate.

OUT OF DATE

At the other end there are those who, for nearly the same reason, reject Christ's teaching as out of date. Conditions they say have radically changed in nineteen hundred years and however much we may admire Christ as a person you cannot expect twentieth century Europeans to treat as final counsel given to Palestinian peasants and Jewish folk. Between these two we are in a dilemma and yet as everybody knows, nobody has actually exerted greater influence over the moral life of the world and its aspiration than Christ. If you refuse Christ's first claim on you of the allegiance of your will you will certainly find his moral teaching impractical and impossible, a dreamer's visions. The moral teaching of Jesus only makes sense when it is seen as the geography or the standard of perfection of the Kingdom of His redeemed people. It is not a programme for the legislative council nor the League of Nations.

THE WAY OUT

The way out of our dilemma is to listen to or meet Christ as a whole and realise that what we are concerned with is less fashioning laws than being made like Him, being made partakers of that spirit of which His words are the signals and messengers.

And the second way out is to be delivered, from the tyranny of expecting Jesus to have legislated for today. Once you have realised that no man can aid that Jesus never attempted to legislate for unborn circumstances, you will be free for the greater adventure of redeeming the world starting with yourself by making His word become flesh again in your own environment.

In other words the task of those who would take Christ's moral teaching seriously is to get behind the words, like a merchant, seeking goodly pearls to the life and spirit, animating them and then to apply that life and spirit today.

EVACUATION FACILITIES

Anglo-French

Arrangement

London, July 3. Regarding the question of refugees desiring to leave Santander, the British Government has reached an arrangement with the French Government whereby the latter is, in principle, prepared to accept Spanish refugees in transit through France to other Spanish territory subject to the following conditions.

Santander Authorities must provide lists of refugees issued by the French Consular Authority there. No men of military age will be permitted to land in French territory and, if any such man should land, they will be sent back. Authorities at Santander are being told that, in return for protection being given, refugee ships of the British Government trust that political prisoners, at present detained at Santander, will be allowed to take advantage of evacuation facilities now being provided.

British "Ultimatum"

Berlin, July 3.

The German press discusses at length the situation created by rejection of the Italo-German proposals.

The "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" says the news that Britain had rejected the Italo-German proposals without examination had at first a sensational effect.

When the preceding British "ultimatum" is borne in mind, it continues, the British attitude on Friday could not but create the impression at first that all possibility of co-operation had disappeared, so that deliveries of war material across the French frontier, or through uncontrolled ports could begin forthwith under the protection of the British Navy.

"Thank God that is not so." This of course assures that in the difficult deliberations that must follow in the next few days, efforts will not be wasted in trying to apportion blame for what had been done, but that serious efforts will be made to achieve progress towards the goal that all have in view.

ONE HOPE REMAINS

"One chance still remains, though not a great one, namely, that impartial examination of the Italo-German proposals will end in recognition of their constructive merits."

The "Boersen Zeitung" also comes to the conclusion that the last decision regarding Spain leaves the door open for further negotiations.

The British and French Governments, accordingly, will have time to consider the facts and realise that the Italo-German proposals are practicable, feasible, fair and reasonable.

Italo-German Proposals

London, July 3.

Britain is apparently alone in supplying the stumbling block to carrying out of the Italo-German proposals.

France and the lesser Powers intimated their intention of communicating the Italo-German proposals to their Governments for examination.

The session failed to produce the dramatic developments expected of it, and some quarters still think there is a good chance of an accord being reached. The decision rests with the British Government.

BELGIAN PRIME MINISTER TO MEET MR. CHAMBERLAIN

London, July 3.

The Belgian Prime Minister, Van Zeeland, who is returning to Belgium from the United States, is expected to arrive at Southampton on Monday morning, and to reach London in the afternoon.

Arrangements have been made for him, on the invitation of the British Government, to have conversations with the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, and the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden.

It is expected that his stay in London will be quite short.

LORD PLYMOUTH'S DECLARATION

London, July 2.

If a complete supervision scheme cannot be devised and agreed to, those withholding agreement would, in the view of the British Government, render it difficult, if not impossible, for the policy of non-intervention to survive. This was the declaration of Lord Plymouth, chairman of the Non-Intervention Committee when he opened to-day's meeting of the sub-committee of that body of which he is chairman. The statement is contained in an official communiqué.

The Portuguese representative said his Government would accept the Anglo-French plan if it were unanimously approved by the committee. The Belgian, Swedish, Czechoslovakian and Russian representatives approved the Anglo-French proposals.

The French representative declared that neither of the Spanish parties could establish an effective blockade and such a situation would gravely interfere with legitimate international trade and might lead to most serious incidents.

The Russian representative said the Italo-German plan completely upset the balance in favour of General Franco and would strike a deathblow to the non-intervention agreement.

Portugal, however, urged very careful consideration of the Italo-German proposals, which Britain found unacceptable.

NAVAL OFFICER DECORATED

London, July 2.

His Majesty the King to-day awarded the Albert Medal to Lieut.-Commander E. G. Scurfield for gallantry in saving the lives of five men when the destroyer Hunter struck a mine off the Spanish coast recently.

Lieut.-Commander Scurfield leaped into the flooded engine-room, where a number of ratings were trapped in boiling steam and water, and dragged several of his unconscious crew to safety. They did not all recover, but five of those he carried to the deck owe their lives to him.

Paris, July 2.

French Ambassadors, sounding the views of the twenty-seven states who are members of the Non-Intervention Committee have already received support from twenty in favour of the Anglo-French proposals.

A message from Berlin states that well-informed circles attach the greatest importance to the possibility of further examination of the Non-Intervention Proposals and suggest that this may finally lead to some new acceptable settlement.

TO GET RID OF STOMACH TROUBLES

An English Doctor writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

(Signed) Dr. H. G. M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of "Bisurated" Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why "Bisurated" Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralises excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking "Bisurated" Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

PRIVATE DETECTIVE 62

William Powell scores another tremendous hit in his latest Warner Bros. comedy-drama, "Private Detective 62," which opened last night at the King's Theatre.

Recognized as a past master of suave men of the world, Mr. Powell in the title role of "Private Detective 62" delighted with his subtle sense of comedy. But this latest Warner Bros. picture is not all comedy. It is a most powerfully effective drama and thrilling situation which he handles with expert capability.

As an international spy, Powell gets caught in some muddy business and finds himself as a "partner" in a private detective agency, trailing faithless wives for suspecting husbands. In due course of events he breaks up a gambling ring which has threatened to destroy the life of his sweetheart, played by Margaret Lindsay.

STOWAWAY

Now she's in China! Who? None other than Shirley Temple! She even talks and sings Chinese, and she takes charge of a fascinating romance, faces danger in glittering Shanghai, performs in a Chinese Theatre and, in short, plays the most unusual role she has ever had, in her new and most thrilling picture, "Stowaway," which has its run Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

It's a picture for your "must" list—with a gripping story, a glamorous cast of great stars, Gordon and Revel's latest song hits, and—first, last and always—the incomparable Shirley!

Little Miss Temple plays the role of a little orphaned waif adrift in China, a victim of the bandits. She becomes an unwitting stowaway on a cruise liner on which Robert Young, a bored millionaire, Alice Faye, and the latter's mother-in-law-to-be are travelling.

CRAIG'S WIFE

Rosalind Russell and John Boles, as Mr. and Mrs. Walter Craig, will be seen in the picturization of George Kelly's famous Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Craig's Wife," which is at the Majestic Theatre.

The stars are supported in lesser roles by an imposing cast including Billie Burke, Jane Darwell, Dorothy Wilson, Alma Kruger, Thomas Mitchell, Robert Allen and Raymond Walburn. Dorothy Arzner, foremost woman director in Hollywood, guided the film transcription through its production, based on the screen play by Mary McCall.

FULL SEA CONTROL

Anglo-French Proposals

London, July 3.

The two different points of view which were voiced in the course of yesterday's deliberations of the Non-Intervention Committee are set forth in a lengthy communique of twenty pages issued by the committee late last night.

The communique reviews the negotiations that took place at yesterday morning's session, when Lord Plymouth, acting on behalf of the British and French Governments, once again brought up for discussion the plan for resumption of full sea control drawn up by the two Governments.

The Portuguese representative, although in favour in principle of the Anglo-French proposals, drew attention to the fact that Lord Plymouth himself had admitted the ineffectiveness of sea control, and it would therefore seem to be advisable to replace the methods that had hitherto proved abortive by a better scheme.

GERMANY'S PLAN

Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop (Germany) then again submitted the Italo-German proposals, which were explained in detail by Count Grandi (Italy).

Count Grandi declared that the mandate of the four Powers for carrying out sea control had expired as a result of withdrawal from control of Germany and Italy, and hence the entire control system had again to be subjected to examination.

It was therefore necessary to re-construct that control system, retaining the balance on one side and on the other repairing the manifold defects encountered during its practical operation.

NEW SHIPS

In this connection he drew attention to the fact that the Spanish mercantile fleet had been unduly increased by the purchase of all manner of vessels in various countries.

"It is no exaggeration," he declared, "to suppose that since sea control came into force, upwards of 100 ships had brought into Red harbours material—that was not subjected to control of any kind."

Count Grandi concluded by suggesting that the Italo-German proposals should be communicated to those Powers not represented on the chairman's sub-committee.

The French Ambassador, M. Charles Corbin, pointed out that the observations made by Italian warships as to traffic between French and Spanish territorial waters had not been submitted to the Non-Intervention Committee, and therefore he maintained that the traffic in question was of a legitimate mercantile nature.

M. Corbin then opposed recognition of both Spanish parties as belligerents on political grounds, since such a step would give legal status to the Salamanca Government.

He assured the committee that the French Government would never grant its approval of such procedure.

IN FAVOUR OF FRANCO

The Ambassador moreover, asserted that the Italo-German proposals would favour the Franco Government, which was stronger in sea power, though neither of the two belligerents was capable of carrying out an effective blockade of its opponents' coasts.

M. Corbin concluded by again recommending acceptance of the Anglo-French proposals.

The Italian Ambassador again spoke, in reply to M. Corbin, to the effect that Italy had not communicated its observations regarding shipping traffic in French and Spanish territorial waters because under the existing situation this constituted no violation of the agreement.

SOVIET OPPOSES

The Soviet Ambassador, M. Ivan Maisky, then spoke against the Italo-German plan, declaring it would favour General Franco.

Herr von Ribbentrop then reviewed the control system, emphasising that Germany and Italy withdrew from the system in order to prevent future incidents.

GERMANY'S HOPE

He also stressed that Germany continued to adhere to the non-intervention principle and expressed the hope that it would prove possible to find a satisfactory solution based on the Italo-German proposals.

Lord Plymouth defended the Anglo-French proposals against the accusations of partiality, pointing to the willingness of both Powers to carry neutral observers on board their control ships.

He admitted that the existing control system contained many gaps but Britain maintained its viewpoint that sea control constituted an essential part of the control system and therefore rejected the Italo-German proposals.

Lord Plymouth concluded by stressing once more that Britain and France were willing to undertake sea control alone.

"QUICK PROCESS" JURY COURT

Berlin, July 3.

Two German Church officials were to-day acquitted by the Berlin "quick process jury court" on charges arising from the conflict between Church and State. The accused,

Reading of the names is illegal under Government decree, which the accused were alleged to have defied.

Insufficient evidence could be produced in court to-day, however, and the accused were discharged.

NO BREAKDOWN IN NON-INTERVENTION

London, July 2.
As the result of to-day's meeting of the Non-Intervention Sub-Committee, it is clear that while no breakdown has occurred, a marked difference of opinion and principle exists between the Italians and Germans, and to some extent the Portuguese on the one side, and on the other the side members of the Committee.

It has been decided to circulate the communiqué which contains a full report of to-day's proceedings to all 27 members of the full Committee in order that those who are not members of the Sub-Committee may report on the procedure to their Governments and there seems a probability that a plenary session will be summoned some time next week.

OFFER RENEWED
In opening this morning's meeting, which lasted for nearly three hours, Lord Plymouth renewed the Franco-British offer to take over the whole of the Naval Control Scheme and to have neutral observers on their patrolling warships as assurance that the work would be performed impartially. He said that a few months ago all the Powers had agreed that Naval supervision was an essential part of the scheme and that Britain had seen no reason to change her view. The suggestion that belligerent rights should be granted to the two parties in Spain was not acceptable and the British Government's view was that Non-Intervention could continue to function only if there was a complete scheme.

COUNTER-PROPOSAL
The German Ambassador, von Ribbentrop, supported by the Italian Ambassador, Signor Grandi, then put forward a counter proposal. This proposal stated that the German and Italian Governments were firmly resolved to maintain the principle of Non-Intervention but they could not accept the Anglo-French proposal. They suggest that belligerent rights should be granted to the two sides in Spain for then "all European powers would add to their obligations as signatories of the Non-Intervention Agreement duties incumbent on neutral states according to the principles of the International Law adapted to the special situation in Spain". They also suggested observation of land frontiers as well as supervision in ports, and with observers in ships flying the flag of the Non-Intervention countries should be maintained.

SOME IN FAVOUR
In the discussion which followed representatives of Belgium, Sweden, Czechoslovakia and Russia expressed the willingness of their governments to accept the Anglo-French proposal. The French Ambassador, M. Corbin, and Lord Plymouth criticised the partial nature of German-Italian suggestions which were clearly unacceptable.

Signor Grandi then recalled that at a previous meeting, when the Anglo-French proposal was first put forward, he and the German Ambassador had criticised it but had consented to refer it to their respective Governments. He asked that a similar course might be adopted in regard to the German-Italian plan.

Lord Plymouth, as chairman, agreed to this suggestion while again emphasising that he saw no likelihood of the British Government changing their view as to its obligations.

THE DEADLOCK
London, July 2.

The Chairman's sub-committee on non-intervention under Lord Plymouth, is now meeting to draft a communiqué dealing with the deadlock which has arisen due to the mutual inacceptability of Anglo-French and Italo-German plans.

The Anglo-French opposition to the Italo-German proposal to grant belligerent rights to both parties in the Spanish civil war, is based on the grounds that these rights would give General Franco an undue advantage.

The new situation will be referred to a meeting of the full committee on non-intervention for further consideration.

The afternoon meeting of the sub-committee was adjourned after two and three-quarter hours of deliberation. It is understood meetings of the full committee and the sub-committee will be held next week.

At this morning's meeting of the sub-committee, Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Ambassador to London and chief delegate at the non-intervention sessions, detailed the German proposals to combine non-intervention with the granting of belligerent rights to the fighting parties. It is understood the British declared the proposals were unacceptable, and the French and Russian representatives gave the plan a critical reception but agreed to refer it to their Governments.

BELLIGERENT RIGHTS
In the course of the meeting it was stated that General Franco, insurgent commander-in-chief, would be placed in an unduly favourable position by the granting of belligerent rights, owing to the superiority of his forces on the sea.

Germany, however, challenged this contention, declaring that Germany did not desire in any way to favour the insurgents at the expense of the Spanish Government.

It is understood Germany would favourably consider allowing German observers to participate in the land control scheme if her proposals are accepted.

COLLIERY DISASTER 27 Killed

London, July 2.
Twenty-seven men are dead and nine are in hospital following an explosion and fire this morning in the Brymbo Colliery, Chester, near Stoke-on-Trent.

A second explosion occurred while nine company officers and inspectors were taking steps to control the fire.

The dead include Mr. John Cox, joint managing-director of the Shelton Iron, Steel and Coal Company, Mr. H. Finney, Senior, Inspector of Mines, Mr. J. Bloor, Sub-Inspector of Mines, and Mr. H. L. Adkins, undermanager.

A number of miners, seriously burned, were taken to the hospital unconscious.

NON-INTERVENTION

British Newspapers' Comment

London, July 3.

British newspapers comment extensively upon the situation with regard to Non-Intervention revealed at yesterday's meeting of the Sub-Committee. There is a general agreement that the counter-proposals put forward by the German and Italian representatives are in no way acceptable. Members of the Committee are now reporting to their respective Governments on the situation which has arisen, and a further meeting, probably of the full Committee, is expected during coming week.

BRYMO COLLIERY 30 Killed

London, July 3.
The death-roll in the disaster at Brymo Colliery, Chester, Stoke-on-Trent, yesterday, has now risen to 30.

Originally stated to be 27, the list of dead was increased when three of the seriously burned miners died in hospital to-day.

Meanwhile, rescue work continues in the pits, wrecked by the two blasts following the outbreak of fire.

Deep under the ground are believed to be over 70 miners, entombed following the collapse of the pit supports.

Their comrades are engaged in feverishly but carefully cutting their way through the coal deposits to the miners, who face a terrible fate if the rescue parties do not break through in time.

WARSHIP BOMBED

Valencia, July 3.

A Spanish Government aeroplane to-day bombed an unknown warship while the vessel was steaming in Spanish territorial waters off Valencia.

The warship, believed to be the insurgent man-of-war, "Canarias", though this cannot be confirmed, was hit by bombs in the bows and sides.

The damage was evidently not serious, however, as the warship was able afterwards to steam in the direction of the Balearic Islands.

REJECTION OF ITALO-GERMAN PROPOSALS

Berlin, July 3.
Judging from German press comments on the situation created by rejection of the Italo-German proposals, the view prevails that it would be premature to speak of the complete collapse of the non-intervention policy.

"The last word regarding the fate of the Italo-German proposals has not yet been uttered," stated the "Hamburger Fremdenblatt," which contends that the proposals, although made at the instigation of Britain, were not given a fair chance for consideration at yesterday's non-intervention meeting.

Suspicion, therefore, naturally arises, says the paper, that the British Government enticed Germany into making a proposal which Britain was determined from the very first to reject.

CUE FOR ATTACK
The "Berliner Lokal-Anzeiger" considers it significant in this connection that the Soviet Ambassador in London, M. Ivan Malysky, predicted complete rejection of the proposals as early as noon yesterday, and thus provided the sensation-loving press with a cue for a new attack on Germany.

Declaring that every peace-loving European should be anxious to salvage at least the principle of non-intervention, the paper goes on to point out that the proposals were intended to fulfil this purpose.

FRAUGHT WITH DANGER
The "Essener National Zeitung" opines that acceptance of the proposals would free the Powers now engaged in control of their thankless task, which past events proved, is fraught with danger.

The paper then points out that the proposals admit of so many possibilities of elaboration that these could not be exhaustively discussed at a single meeting.

The official Nazi organ writes: "It is now up to Britain and France to declare whether they wish to pursue a policy of peace or openly support Red Spanish interests."

SAKE OF PEACE

"For the sake of peace it is to be hoped that the decision of London and Paris will no longer be influenced by the pressure of the Left extremists which proved such a heavy burden to the London non-intervention policy in the past."

INSURGENTS ADVANCE ON SANTANDER

Bilbao, July 3.
The insurgents yesterday continued their advance on Santander, sweeping all before them.

The whole mountain range of Garbera, to the south of Bilbao, has been occupied, while another flying column occupied two villages on the Biscaya-Santander border.

Other columns smashed their way through into Santander Province and are now operating in the vicinity of Otanes, on the Valseseda-Castro Urdiales road. The rebels advancing in a westerly direction from Valseseda have also reached the Santander border.

AIR SUPERIORITY

Prime factor in the rapid advance of the insurgents is their preponderance in artillery and aircraft.

From Salamanca it is reported that the Burgos authorities have appointed Brigadier-General Francisco Moreno to be Chief of General Staff at army headquarters. He has also been appointed a member of the insurgent Supreme War Council.

RUSSIAN PATROL CRAFT DAMAGED

Moscow, July 2.

A satisfactory solution to the Amur River incident, in which a Russian patrol craft was badly damaged and a Japanese vessel was captured, has now been effected.

This word reached the public at the conclusion of conversations between the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Mamoru Shigemitsu, and the Foreign Commissar, M. Maxim Litvinoff, to-day.

The Ambassador stated that the Soviet had agreed to the immediate withdrawal of their troops from the two islands particularly involved, upon Japan's assurance that Manchukuo would also remove troops and ships from the vicinity.

KING LEOPOLD'S STIRRING APPEAL

Brussels, July 2.

A stirring appeal for national service was made by King Leopold to leaders of ex-soldiers' associations whom he received at the Palace and to whom he explained the service-men's demand for a referendum on the Amnesty Bill could not be accepted because the principle of the referendum was not recognised by the Belgian Constitution.

The King declared it was a mistake to attribute to the Amnesty Bill the character of an attack on the country's dignity.

A few days ago the ex-soldiers rioted outside the Palace, demanding the Amnesty Bill be withdrawn, since it proposed to free war time "traitors."

To-day they listened eagerly to their King's closing words:

"National service is the ideal for which you fought. It should continue the object of your collective action. More than ever Belgium needs union and internal peace."

CABINET TO HOLD EMERGENCY MEETING

London, July 3.

Rumours of naval movements in the Mediterranean have followed upon the deadlock in the non-intervention negotiations, but they are without official warrant.

A serious view of developments is taken in London, however, where it is felt that the Italo-German aim is to force Britain and France into legal recognition of the Franco authorities.

The Cabinet is to hold an emergency meeting on Monday when it

BRYMCO COLLIERY DISASTER

London, July 3.

Thirty men, including the managing director and two mines inspectors who joined in the rescue party after the first of the two explosions had taken place, lost lives in the coal mine disaster at Brymco Colliery, near Stoke-on-Trent.

There were about 200 men in the mine when the first explosion occurred.

The second explosion took place three hours later, involving the members of one of the rescue parties.

At present it is impossible to recover the bodies.

Of the six injured, now in hospital, two are in a serious condition.

THIRTY KILLED IN EXPLOSION

London, July 2.

A coal mine disaster occurred to-day at the Brymco Colliery near Stoke-on-Trent as a result of which it is feared that between 20 and 30 men have lost their lives.

Two explosions occurred, the second involving many rescue workers, including the managing director and other officials of the Colliery. So far no bodies have been recovered.

British Wireless Service.

It is anticipated that important decisions will be taken.

Berlin believes that agreement is still possible, but London is pessimistic, and diplomatic circles fear that the entire non-intervention control system will break down on land and sea.

WEDDING BELLS

Burnett-Dalziel

A quiet wedding of much interest to the sporting circles was solemnised on Saturday afternoon in the Lady Chapel of St. John's Cathedral, when Miss Olive Allison Dalziel, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Dalziel, of 10 Suffolk Road, Kowloon Tong, became the bride of Mr. Gordon Cade Burnett, the only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. V. Burnett, of 110 The Peak.

The wedding was officiated by the Rev. H. W. Baines. The bride and bridegroom are both well-known locally—the former is a former hockey interporter, whilst the latter is the Manager of the China Mail and Sunday Herald and an interporter in cricket.

Entering the Cathedral on the arm of Mr. "Jock" Gardner, her brother-in-law, the bride looked charming in white silk crepe cut on simple lines with a high neck and short sleeves trimmed with diamonds. The old family veil with orange blossom, as worn by her twin sister four months ago, and a sheaf of white spider lilies completed a very attractive picture.

The bride's twin sister, Mrs. J. Gardner was the Matron of Honour. She was dressed in pale blue silk organdie with a small cape and trimmings of darker blue and white, and hat and shoes of navy blue. She carried a posy of pale pink roses.

The bride's mother, Mrs. O. C. Dalziel, was clad in navy blue French crepe georgette with white trimmings.

Mr. W. Stoker fulfilled the duties of best man, while Mr. A. L. Fisher acted as groomsmen.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Apartment 54, Dina House, and the happy couple left later for Repulse Bay, where the honeymoon will be spent.

The bride's going away dress was of coral French silk crepe, tunic style, with white accessories.

The bride's father was unable to attend on account of his being absent from the Colony. He is in Shanghai.

BRITTO-OZORIO

The Rosary Church on Saturday was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Edith Maria Ozorio, became the bride of Mr. H. M. Britto, son of the late Mr. J. M. Britto and Mrs. Emily Hyndman Veira Ribeiro.

The wedding ceremony was officiated by Rev. Father Rossi. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a white organdie gown, beautifully embroidered, and her veil was held in place with a tiara of orange blossom.

The bridesmaids, Miss Thelma Rosario and the bride's sister, Miss Betty Ozorio, wore frocks of blue embroidered organdie.

The groom was attended by Messrs. J. M. Barradas and E. O. P. Hyndman. Little Miss A. Xavier acted as flower-girl, while Master Bobby Osmond was page-boy.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, at No. 10, Tung Cheong Building.

The bride and bridegroom left later in the day for Canton where the honeymoon is being spent.

EDWARDS-ROZA

At the Roman Catholic Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Fr. G. M. Spada conducted the wedding ceremony between Miss G. A. da Rosa and Mr. G. S. Edwards.

Many of the newly-weds' friends gathered later in the evening at the Gloucester Hotel to offer their felicitations.

GOVERNMENT TENDERS

The Government is inviting tenders for surfacing the Sai Kung Road to Flight Gap. The contract comprises the laying of bottoming and macadam surfacing to Sai Kung Road between the site of Field Cottage and the junction of the road to Customs Pass, together with all kerbing, channelling and other contingent works.

Tenders are also being invited by the Kowloon-Canton Railway for a reinforced concrete road level crossing.

A further notification calls for tenders for the construction and fitting to chassis of two bus bodies and two prison van bodies.

NEW $10,000,000 COMPANY FORMED

On of the largest and most far-reaching concerns to be established in Hong Kong and China within recent years is the China Development Company, Limited, with its head office in the Stock Exchange Building, Hong Kong.

The new company, to be capitalized at $10,000,000.00, is backed by a group of reputable and outstanding business men in Hong Kong, Philippine Islands, and the U. S. A., who, with a far-sighted outlook, have visualized the present and future possibilities of the Colony and China and are prepared to back their convictions with financial aid and executive ability and experience. This group of men, which consists of bankers, financiers, business men, engineers, and technical men of all kinds, is the nucleus of the company, the sound basis of its present and future operations and the reason for its inception.

This group of financial and technical experts, the pioneers and sponsors of the local company, has an office in New York—Wright & Dolbear—with a complete engineering staff, and employs one of the most outstanding engineers in the world, who has made investigations of companies and properties for several Governments. It is also associated with the General Management Co., Inc., Manila, P. I., a corporation with a reputation second to none in the Philippines and now an associate corporation of local company.

The same group already owns gold mining and asphaltum properties and is now formulating plans for the development of a new process of manufacturing coconut oil. A prospectus covering the first of these projects will be placed before the public by the local company in a week's time and the other two in due course.

KENYA GOLD MINES

The Company's recently acquired gold-bearing property comprises 150 claims and is situated in Kenya Colony, Africa. In a long and detailed report, the company's engineer, a geologist of international reputation, recommended the purchase of the property, after proving to his own and the company's satisfaction that the prospects were excellent with cheap production costs and assured and reasonable profits.

The asphaltum property, also a recent acquisition, is situated on the Island of Leyte, Philippine Islands, from which large quantities of petroleum can be extracted, together with by-products, such as fertilizer, lime, carbide, cyanide and carbon dioxide.

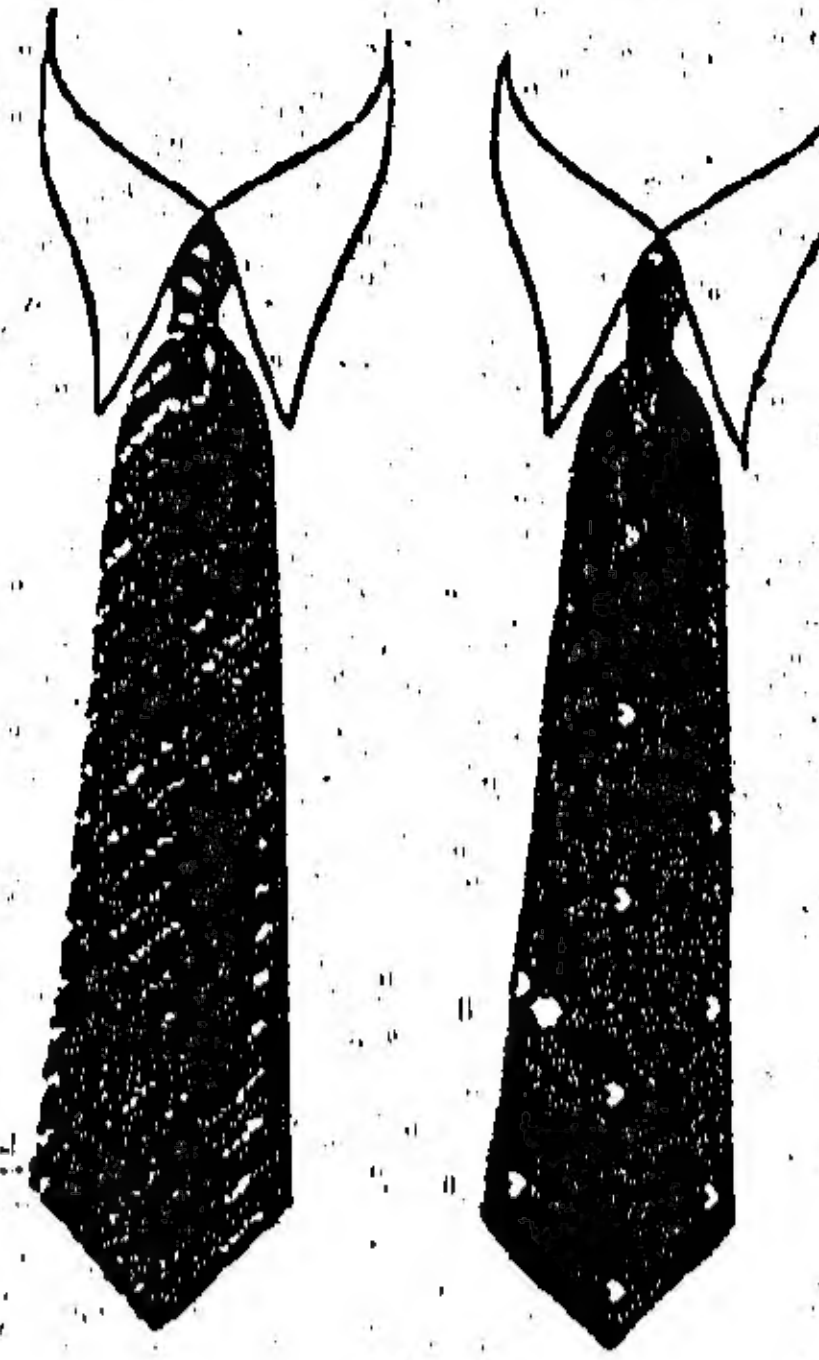

The third of the company's projects is a new process in the manufacture of refined coconut oil for which the company holds an option on the patent. This process not only assures a more refined product but has a saving in production costs of 44 per cent.

REAL OBJECT

The real object of the company, however, is to issue from time to time shares to the investing public in Hong Kong and China and elsewhere which will enable them to participate in all the projects of the China Development Co., Ltd., and the profit accruing to the company from its operations and developments. As will be seen from its first prospectus and its Memorandum of Association, it is the intention of the company to develop properties in Hong Kong and China proper and to aid them financially if reasonable and profitable results can be looked forward to. With this end in view, the new company will, within a few days, have in Hong Kong a staff of engineers and other technical experts to advise it and other corporations and individuals in regard to promising projects of whatever kind, and help in any way they can with their special knowledge and experience.

Mr. S. J. Green, who has been financial adviser to many large institutions and corporations in California and who is well-known in Manila and lately in Hong Kong, is in charge of the financial and financial and investment experience will be at the disposal of the company and its potential investors. Mr. Green will also give all information and advice in his power and will answer all enquiries in regard to the company's operations and projects.

Further information in regard to the company's activities particularly regarding a new, to Hong Kong at least, method of profit sharing,

What action on the part of the Council has been taken or is contemplated towards removing or alleviating any of the foregoing insanitary conditions?

(3) Has the attention of the Council been drawn to the recent increase of mosquitoes in the Kowloon City—Princes Edward Road area and is it a fact that patients or staff of the Kowloon Hospital have suffered considerably in consequence of this increase?

(4) Is the Council aware that the nuisance caused by obnoxious cultivation of vegetables on land adjacent to residential buildings has not abated and that such cultivation has even been commenced on land recently filled in?

(5) Will the Council take steps to put a stop to the practice of breeding pigs without a licence in the area South of Carpenter Road?

(6) Will the Council furnish particulars as to the number of prosecutions initiated in this area and penalties inflicted for breaches of the various sanitary Regulations since August, 1936?

FLYING OVER THE PACIFIC

The latest agreement of the Imperial Conference—on the need to seek reciprocal rights in granting foreign air lines permission to operate on British territory—may be taken as an expression of the particular interest of British commercial flying in the area of the Pacific.

It may ultimately be as important to have a British air route between Canada and New Zealand as it is for the United States to have a service across the Atlantic. On the latter route Nature has dictated the course that must be taken in such a way as to leave no alternatives for different nations to adopt, whereas in the South Pacific at all events the two nations may go their own ways to a common junction and a common terminus.

The way of the British Empire may be inferred from the recent access of interest in Christmas Island, which stands on a direct route from Auckland to the Hawaiian Islands. Like Midway Island and Wake Island, which the United States turned into air stations for its service from San Francisco to the Philippines, Christmas Island promises to emerge from the comparative obscurity of its absorption in coconuts and copra to grace the time-tables of fast transport with the hint of good-fellowship which its name conveys. British aeroplanes may come by the stepping-stones of British islands from New Zealand to this point, 1,200 miles distant from Honolulu, or nearly half-way to Canada. For the rest of the journey they will be dependent on the good will of the United States, just as that great nation has had to count on British co-operation in its plans to fly the North Atlantic by some route south of the Arctic Circle.

In the Pacific—the United States Government has not yet been asked to admit a foreign air line to Honolulu. Up to the present it has not had to admit any foreign air traffic from across the sea into its territory. The inauguration of a British service between Bermuda and New York must open the new era.

The entry of ocean mails into the United States from Montreal in British aircraft may have to be considered within perhaps two years. Soon afterwards a British air line may be expected to ask for permission to fly regularly to Honolulu, and possibly to San Francisco, on the way between New Zealand and Canada. In readiness for that day the New Zealand Government has stipulated, in its fifteen-years' agreement with Pan-American Airways, that the permission must not be withheld if American aircraft are to continue to run into New Zealand. The chosen operating company for United States overseas services has so far been in the peculiar position of having to ask favours abroad without being able to promise reciprocal favours.

A belief in the ultimate good faith of the United States has secured to that operating company most of the favours it needed, and the valuable pioneer work of American commercial flying has been enabled to proceed. The approaching opportunity to return such hospitality is announced in the vast British preparations in the North Atlantic; in the air mail plans of Canada, Australia, and New Zealand; and in the location of a Government representative with wireless apparatus at Christmas Island.

The significance of these developments in relation to the Pacific is not to be mistaken; nor can there any longer be doubt that the British Empire looks to the United States for assistance in the Pacific similar to that which is about to be afforded by the British Empire in the Atlantic.

WHERE DOES
LIFE BEGIN?

Virus As Chemical

The old question "Where does life begin, where does chemistry end?" is carried a stage further in a report by Dr. J. D. Bernal, of the Crystallographic Laboratory, Cambridge, on the nature of four disease-producing viruses he has been studying.

Dr. Bernal has lately been elected a Fellow of the Royal Society for his work on the borderline between life and crystal structure. With him, in his latest work, is associated Dr. I. Fankuchen, of the same laboratory.

Sir William Bragg recently told how Dr. Bernal and his collaborators had been able to prove that a disease-producing virus affecting the tobacco plant—according to conventional ideas a living thing—could be extracted from the leaves of the plant as a mere chemical. This work, Sir William stated, was likely to prove of very great importance.

In a recent issue of "Nature," Dr. Bernal reports that he has been able, not merely to study the virus as a chemical, but to establish the arrangement of the atoms of which it is built up, and to measure shape and dimensions of the units into which they are built.

X-RAY ANALYSIS
The general form, he states, is that of a needle of hexagonal cross-section, which is thickest in the middle and tapers to a point at either end. The needles are about 1.8 thousandths of an inch long. They are not to be thought of as possessing the full degree of rigidity of an ordinary needle. They are what are called "liquid crystals"—that is to say they combine the regularity of form associated with normal solid crystals with some degree of fluidity.

Knowledge of their shape has been obtained, like that of solid crystals, by means of X-ray analysis, a method of examination which was first perfected by Sir William Bragg.

Dr. Bernal has now studied three different forms of tobacco virus, as well as a fourth virus which affects the cucumber plant. In each case he has found small but significant differences in the physical pattern of the virus.

As a result, he suggests that it may prove possible to build up a new system of classifying viruses, according to their shapes and physical dimensions.

FUTURE RESEARCH
The present tendency, in interpreting Dr. Bernal's experiments, is to refuse to make any hard-and-fast distinction between what is living and not living. Some viruses, at least, it has been shown, can be treated as purely chemical in their nature. There is a continuous gradation up from them, through the visible bacteria, to the higher forms of life.

It is being left to future research to decide at what point, and in what way, life develops the peculiar power of directed activity which seems characteristic of it. A virus, in its natural surroundings, has the power of self-reproduction. In all other respects its behaviour suggests that of any other complex chemical.

A QUEEN'S NECKLACE
FOR SALE

One of the shortest, but by no means one of the least important, jewel sales at Sotheby's for some time takes place shortly, when three lots, including a magnificent diamond necklace once owned by Marie Antoinette, comes under the hammer. There should be no doubt about the authenticity of the necklace, which is sold by order of the present joint-owners, the Archduchess Bianca of Austria and Beatrix Princess Massimo; for accompanying it is a signed and sealed certificate of origin tracing its descent. The genealogical tree on vellum is in itself a highly artistic contribution, being emblazoned with the arms of the various owners in heraldic colours.

Zealand; and in the location of a Government representative with wireless apparatus at Christmas Island.

The significance of these developments in relation to the Pacific is not to be mistaken; nor can there any longer be doubt that the British Empire looks to the United States for assistance in the Pacific similar to that which is about to be afforded by the British Empire in the Atlantic.

"PACIFISTS ARE MISTAKEN"Dr. Henson
On Peril Of "A Feeble Britain"

The Bishop of Durham (Dr. Hensley Henson), preaching at a Masonic service recently asked:

"Can a Christian rightly be a soldier and serve in wars at the call of his country's Government?" "We know," he continued, "that there are some excellent persons who, with the New Testament in their hands, are prepared to meet both these questions with an eager and even passionate negative. They hold that every Christian is bound to be a pacifist."

"For myself I think they are mistaken. I think that, in the actual state of the world, to be a pacifist is to take too limited, too pedantic a view of Christian duty."

"Why has Great Britain had to acquiesce in the hideous crime by which Abyssinia has been brutally oppressed and its liberty destroyed? Is it not notorious that it was because, thanks to pacifist sentiment, the armaments of Great Britain had been so reduced as to make it actually unsafe and unwise to restrain the aggressor?"

"Why has the League of Nations, which seemed on the verge of triumphant success, been so enfeebled and humiliated as almost to have lost importance? Is it not because the only great European Power, Great Britain, which cared sincerely for its success was too feeble to assert its authority?"

"And to-day is not the only hope of peace in the world bound up with the effective rearmament of Great Britain?"

In the end, he added, every citizen must determine for himself the issue to duty.

NEWS AND SOUND
ON A DISC

NEWSPAPER'S FUTURE

Colour Pictures Sent
By "Wire"

What the newspaper and the periodical will be like in the future was discussed at the Conference of the Empire Press Union in London recently.

Mr. David Greenhill, of the Sun Engraving Company, Limited, said: "The increase in the mass of pictures, almost entirely in monochrome at present, and the insistent demand for colour, make one wonder what the daily newspaper and weekly periodical will be like, say, 20 years hence."

"Will it be a newspaper in which the story is told in pictures? Will the pictures be in colour? Shall we all have television sets with the news shown in colour pictures and the 'talkies' giving it out?"

"Or, will the newspapers just sell discs or cylinders on which the whole news, colour and sound, is impressed?"

A new phase in Press photography was described by Mr. D. R. Anderson, of the "Daily Record," Glasgow, who explained how his company, by means of telephotography, "wired" a colour picture from London to Glasgow and reproduced it in the following morning's edition.

Copies of the newspaper, with the photograph on the front page, were distributed among the delegates. The picture, in full colour, showed a Beefeater at the Tower of London.

Referring to the picture, Mr. Cecil Harnsworth said, "The 'Daily Record' has inaugurated a revolution in journalism."

After tracing the influence of American styles on British newspapers, Mr. Stanley Morrison, typographical adviser to Cambridge University Press, said, "It is to be admitted that the American initiative has come to us from the other side of the ocean in a degree not too flattering to us. It is to be reported, on the other side, that the London journals now maintain a standard of printing appreciably higher than the average New York journal."

Mr. William Will (Allied Newspapers) complained of the mass of type faces used by individual newspapers. "Only a man without any type feeling or taste at all could produce some of the monstrosities we see," he said.

When John Buchan Is Happy

A Scots operator, in Montreal telling how Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada—John Buchan, the novelist—was out fishing that day but "not catching many fish" was one of several amusing passages when Edinburgh was linked by radio telephone with Montreal recently. The Post Office exhibit at the closing session of the Overseas League Empire Trade and Development Exhibition in the Waverley Market was crowded for the occasion.

The operator hearing greetings from this country was John Hay, an Inverness man reared in Glasgow, and he was privileged to receive a message to the Governor-General from the Queen's brother-in-law, Lord Elphinstone.

"Lord Elphinstone said: 'If an opportunity arises I would be glad if you could give a message from me to the Governor-General. He is a very old friend of mine, and I would very much like to have spoken to him myself to-night.'"

Assuring Lord Elphinstone that the message would be delivered, Mr. Hay said the Governor-General was in St. John's Brunswick, enjoying some fishing that day. "He is not catching many fish, I understand, but he is having a very good time." The Edinburgh audience, hearing the conversation by loud-speaker, laughed heartily.

"HEARTS—PRETTY HOT"

After he had mentioned the Clachnacuddin football team in his native Inverness, Mr. Hay said: "Of course, you have a pretty hot football team in Edinburgh—the Hearts."

Mr. McKickan, chf. Scottish regional engineer of the G.P.O., said

"I suppose you follow the fortunes of our Scottish football teams with great interest?" Mr. Hay—"Very much indeed."

"When are you coming over to see us?" asked the Edinburgh speaker. Mr. Hay—"1938 is the year of the Glasgow Exhibition, isn't it? Well, we are hoping to make the trip then." "What sort of team have the Grange this year?" Mr. Hay then asked, but it was Mr. McKickan's "over-up," and the question was unanswered.

Two Canadians sent via Mr. Hay personal greetings to relatives in different parts of Canada. They were Miss Grace Potts, Saskatoon, a Canadian Guides representative at the Coronation, and Miss Annie Finlayson, Vancouver.

While news of the prospective visit this summer of 200 Overseas League representatives to Canada, was given to the Montreal operator by Mr. John Bridges, development secretary of the League, Mr. George White, honorary secretary of the Scottish Secondary Schools Travel Trust, told him of the arrangements for a visit of Scottish school-boys. "Yes, I know," Mr. Hay said to Mr. White. "I am going to meet the boys."

The visit to Montreal in recent years of a Scottish trade ship with a delegation headed by the Duke of Montrose was recalled by Mr. Hay, who said that as a result Scottish products were better known in Canada than they ever were. There were, for example, he said, Scottish tobacco firms whose names were to-day household words in Canada.

AIR LINER
DESTROYED
AT KARACHIOutbreak Of Fire In Hangar

The Hengist, one of Imperial Airways largest air liners, was totally destroyed by fire at Karachi recently. According to a message received in London, the Hengist was in a hangar at the airport when it caught fire. No one was injured, and the cause of the fire is unknown.

Imperial Airways state that despite the loss of the Hengist their services to the East will not be affected.

"The Hengist was one of Britain's leviathans of the air; belonging to the 'Hannibal Class,' it was designed to operate on the Middle East and Egyptian sections of the Empire route, and had accommodation for 24 passengers in two saloons.

A crew of five, including two stewards, was the liner's personnel. Similar machines are used on the Continental route. These, however, carry 38 passengers.

The Hengist, one of the most luxurious and comfortable air liners in the world, had a cruising speed of 100 m.p.h.

When the Hannibal, first of the class, was built in 1931 she was the world's largest aeroplane. Others of this famous flying family, in addition to the Hengist, are the Hanno, Heracles, Helena, Horatius, Horsa, and Hadrian. Each cost about £30,000, and were the first four-engined air liners.

ON BOARD THE
EMPRESS OF CANADA

There are some very interesting names in the passenger list of the Empress of Canada, and among the people of note who are travelling we find:

Mr. V. Aldanes, former Commissioner of Customs.

Miss I. B. Allen, lecturer at the University of Manitoba on an educational tour to the Orient.

Mrs. V. Baird, prominent resident of Honolulu on a world tour.

Mrs. A. and Miss B. Brygger, wife and daughter of the President of Peoples Bank & Trust Co. on an orient tour.

Mr. G. H. Elliott, Secretary Treasurer of the Carter-Hall-aid-Driver Co.

Mrs. M. Jones and daughter, prominent socially en route to Manila to take up permanent residence.

Miss J. and Miss R. McKinley, daughter of Dr. McKinley, member of medical advisory board, Leonard Wood Memorial, on a holiday tour.

Miss F. Meredith, prominent resident of Honolulu on an extended world tour.

Mr. F. H. Pounsett, regional manager, Export Department of the Rec Motor Car Co.

Mr. W. G. Robertson, Official of the Pure Cane Molasses Co.

Mr. F. C. Springstead, travelling auditor of the Texas Oil Co.

Mr. F. Sykes, travelling auditor of the Texas Oil Co.

Mrs. H. E. Terzin, wife of the manager of the American Express Co. at Manila.

Major S. T. Wallis and family, prominent resident of Honolulu on a world tour.

For Imperial Airways 1937 has been an unfortunate year, as this is the third liner to be lost.

Ravages Of New Plant Pest

The Royal Horticultural Society want information of an insect, new to England, which is showing a marked penchant for the rhododendrons of Surrey gardens and estates.

Its name is Graphocephala coccinea, it comes from America, and its appearance suggests a dyer's pattern-book on wings. Its head is yellow, with black eyes, and a black band surrounding it. Front wings are bluish-green, with scarlet stripes. Elsewhere there are red spots on green, and the stream-lined chassis is scarlet on top, and yellow beneath.

With a wing-span of nearly two-thirds of an inch, Graphocephala has a habit of lying openly on rhododendron bushes during the daytime.

Although inquiries from America have brought the reply that in its native country the insect is relatively harmless, the Society's expert is by no means satisfied that this will prove the case here.

In one Windlesham garden, the leaves of rhododendron plants have been invaded by bacteria, believed to have gained entry through the holes made for feeding by Graphocephala. The foliage as a result, became spotted. Damage of this kind, it is suggested, might prove to be more serious than the effects of the insect feeding.

Graphocephala belongs to the group of insects known as "leaf-hoppers," other members of which have been responsible for extensive injury to plants and trees. When disturbed, it is said, to show "marked agility."

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIR SERVICE

Important Trial Flights To-Day

CALEDONIA AND GIANT SIKORSKY PLANE

London, July 4. Aviators throughout the world will be watching with keen anticipation on the evening of July 5, when, after months of the most elaborate tests in weather observations the Imperial Airways 18-ton liner flying boat Caledonia and the Pan-American Airways' giant Sikorsky will make the first Anglo-American trials from opposite directions with a view to the establishment of trans-Atlantic service.

Allowing for adverse winds normally from the west, the Caledonia should cover 1,993 miles from Ryhanna, at the mouth of the Shannon, to Botway, Newfoundland, in 16 hours, but as a matter of safety she carries enough petrol for the complete 3,223 miles via Montreal to New York.

Her crew consists of a pilot, first officer, engineer, two wireless engineers. An automatic pilot has been fitted and she will continually be in touch with both sides of the Atlantic and all ships en route. By a gentlemen's agreement both flying boats start together and if the weather delays one the other waits.—Reuter.

Opium Smuggling

Further Evidence In Japanese Prince Case

Fresh evidence for the prosecution was heard before Mr. W. Schofield in the Japanese Prince case when it was resumed at the Central Magistracy on Saturday.

Charles D. Evans, ship's carpenter and Wong Yau alias Wong Kwai-shun, well-known merchant and property owner, are charged with smuggling opium out of the Colony to New York on board the said vessel Japanese Prince. It is alleged that the opium was given to Evans by Wong.

The prosecution is in the hands of Mr. W. M. Thomson, the Assistant Superintendent of Imports and Exports. Evans is represented by Mr. W. A. Mackinlay while Mr. J. T. Prior is defending Wong. Yessun Bin Dollah, boatswain of the Japanese Prince was closely examined by the defending solicitors.

UNTRUE EVIDENCE

Mr. Prior addressing the witness said:

"I put it to you that in order to save yourself from going to prison, you have come here and given evidence which is untrue."

Witness—No.

Mr. Thomson: Was any inducement of any kind offered you to make you give evidence?

Witness—No.

The next witness called was Besant Singh, watchman employed by the Prince Line.

He stated that at about 2.30 a.m. on June 17, he was on duty when Evans walked up the gangway with two suit cases. He stopped Evans and said the suit cases must be searched, but Evans refused and, pushing his way past, went to his cabin.

Evans told him not to make a noise as the cases contained whisky. The witness was not satisfied and asked him to produce the keys. He lifted the corner of one of them. It broke and witness saw some tins.

$250 OFFERED

Evans then appeared very frightened and taking some notes from his pockets, told witness to take $250 and not bother him any more.

The stuff, Evans said, belonged to a Chinese and the boatswain and he had been given $250 to take the opium to the ship. Witness told Evans to let him know when the men came aboard so that they could be arrested. The witness placed another watchman at Evans' door.

Between 6.30 and 6.45 in the morning a motor car came to the side of the ship with three girls and the boatswain, who went to his cabin.

About twenty five minutes later, a fire broke out in the engine room and witness was told to turn out all available men.

Later in the morning, Mr. Holland came from the head office and witness reported the affair to him. At 2 p.m., Mr. Holland had done nothing, so witness went to him again and it appeared that there was a misunderstanding as he had mentioned whisky when talking of the opium in the suit cases.

The chief officer and Mr. Holland then went to Evans' cabin where the suit cases were found. On instructions, witness took them to the Revenue Office in a taxi.

The case was adjourned at this stage until to-day.

Nanking, July 3. Ho Ying-ching and Ku Chu-tung has gone to Kuling by air to receive instructions from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek preparatory to going to Chungking.—Reuter.

WARM WELCOME

Preparations are being made at Chungking to give a warm welcome to General Ho Ying-ching, Chairman and General Ku Chu-tung, Vice-Chairman of the newly-formed Military Organisation Committee for Szechuen and Sikong. ### JAPANESE FORCES IN NORTH CHINA

Shanghai, July 4. Strong instructions given to any Chinese envoy in recent years was delivered to Ambassador Hsu Shih-ying on the eve of the envoy's return to Tokyo. They call for withdrawal of all Japanese forces from North China and the complete abandonment of Foreign Minister Hirota's "three principles."

The instructions are understood to contain the following four points:—
1. Dissolution of the East Hopei and North Chahar regimes shall be a pre-requisite to any Sino-Japanese economic rapprochement.
2. The Hirota three principles must be completely withdrawn.
3. Any Japanese policies tending to colonize North China or to impair China's territorial and administrative integrity will be flatly rejected.
4. Unrestricted flying by Japanese over North China must cease.—Union News.

SCOTS FREEMASONS' PROJECT

£100,000 Temple For Glasgow

Freemasons in Glasgow are considering a suggestion to erect a Masonic temple costing £100,000, which would be ready for opening in 1939—the bicentenary of the Glasgow Province.

The proposal has come from Sir Alexander B. Swan, Provincial Grand Master of Glasgow, who thinks that Glasgow—one of the largest centres of Freemasonry in Scotland—should have a building worthy of the city.

"We have nothing at all to be compared with the Masonic temples in England," said Sir Alexander in an interview with "The Bulletin" in Glasgow. "It would be most appropriate if members of the movement could come together and decide to erect a Masonic temple in Glasgow in time for the bicentenary celebrations in 1939."

Sir Alexander pointed out that, though £100,000 was mentioned as the cost of such a building, he was taking into account the fact that this sum would cover the entire erection and also form the basis of a substantial endowment fund.

ROOT CAUSES OF WAR

A U.S. Thesis Pleasing To Germany

In a speech which caused satisfaction in German diplomatic circles, Mr. Francis Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State, said recently: "In the last analysis the root causes of war are not inflamed racial hatreds or national prejudices, but underlying economic, financial or other policies of a non-co-operative nature which in time produce tense problems from which war seems to belicose minds to offer the only way of escape."

The condemnation by the Assistant Secretary of "cutting off other nations from access to needed raw materials" was felt to give support to German requests for the removal of the American embargo on the export of helium supplies.

Mr. Sayre also condemned "international" preferences and trade discriminations. War could not be eliminated by force of arms nor by emotional pacifism, Mr. Sayre said, but by "shaping national policies along more co-operative lines."

Mr. Sayre was addressing a convention of the Women's Temperance Union. He read a message of welcome from the President, who commended the union and its interest in world peace.

"We are ready at all times," said the President, "to co-operate with all nations and all peoples to make the spirit of peace a practical and living fact."

ROYAL COMMISSION RECOMMENDATIONS

Palestine Territory To Be Divided

ARAB, JEWISH OPPOSITION TO SCHEME EXPECTED

Jerusalem, July 4. According to a report from authoritative Jewish sources the London Royal Commission to Palestine recommends division into three classes of territory, namely, Arab, Jewish States and British Mandated Areas.

The Jewish state is to comprise the whole of the upper and lower Galilee Valley, Esdraelon coastal plain and part of the southern district, also the towns of Haifa, Safad, Acre and Tiberias.

The British area comprises Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Nazareth, also a corridor extending on either side of Jerusalem on the Jaffa road to permit Arabs access to Jaffa port. The remainder of the country is to be the Arab state, joinable by the Trans-Jordan.

The Commission, the report alleges, declares that all the proposals it heard and considered were merely palliatives and it was therefore necessary to go to the root of the problem.

If the foregoing proves accurate very intense Arab and Jewish opposition to partition of the scheme is expected.—Reuter.

PARIS STRIKES

Paris, July 3. Three thousand metal workers in Paris started a sit-down strike demanding an increase of one franc per hour in their wages. Employers have offered forty centimes and at present the situation is a deadlock. The proposed strike to-day by hotel proprietors as a protest against the forty-hour week did not materialise as employers and employees have now agreed that the question of hours be settled by the Labour Inspector.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

AMELIA EARHART RESCUED

New York, July 3. According to a broadcast from Honolulu, Miss Amelia Earhart has been rescued by a British vessel.—Reuter.

WEAK SIGNALS PICKED UP

Los Angeles, July 4. A wireless amateur reports to have picked up weak signals, believed to be from Amelia Earhart's aeroplane, at 12.30 p.m. (British Standard Time).—Reuter.

Australia's First Governor

Lord Wakefield's Tribute To Admiral Phillip

Vicount Wakefield, accompanied by representatives of the ward of Bread-street, London, visited Bath recently, and unveiled a memorial in the Abbey to Admiral Arthur Phillip, founder and first Governor of Australia. Admiral Phillip's death occurred at Bath, and he was buried in Bathampton Church. There was a procession from the Guildhall to the Abbey, where Lord Wakefield, in unveiling the tablet, said:

"To Arthur Phillip, to his courage and wisdom, his sense of justice and his resourcefulness in face of difficulty and hardship owe the emergence of a great people, partners with ourselves in this Empire. We are resolved that his memory shall be honoured in the Motherland as it is honoured in the great Commonwealth of Australia of which he was the founder."

The Mayor afterwards gave a luncheon at the Guildhall to Lord Wakefield and a number of guests. Replying to the toast of his health, Lord Wakefield said not the least of Admiral Phillip's gifts was a profound grasp of the immense possibilities latent in the youthful colony. Within a few months of the establishment of the community, such was his far-seeing imagination that he was able to report to Lord Sydney his confident prophecy that the country would prove the most valuable acquisition Great Britain even made.

"It has been clear," proceeded Lord Wakefield, "that Phillip's judgment was sound. Our kinsmen in Australia, historically still a young nation, stand in the eyes of the Motherland and of the whole world as a great people in their strength of purpose and wealth of achievement, an example and an inspiration to all."

A DREAM

FULFILLED

The Empire Air Mail

Thus, the first year of a new reign, is to be distinguished by a great historic event of Empire-wide importance, the establishment of the 1½d. flat rate for mails by air, and the transport of all first-class mail by air to all parts of the Empire on the main air routes.

The dream, which none took seriously when organised air commercial transport began to take form after the war, comes true.

Nineteen years ago the most sanguine asked to forecast the date when a British Government would legislate for the sending of all first-class mail by air, would not have hazarded any earlier than 1950.

BRITAIN'S LEAD

Yet within the next few weeks the countries on the air route to South Africa will get the mail from the United Kingdom by the swiftest and most expensive means of transport bearing the ordinary 1½d. postage stamp for 4-oz. letters and 1d. for postcards. No country among those now following Great Britain's lead in this great enterprise will equal it for cheapness.

India, Burma, and Malaya will come into the scheme before the end of the year, and Australia early next year.

Philatelists collecting air mail stamps will ere long have a narrower field to exploit, for ordinary postage stamps will suffice where, in many cases, special stamps have been used.

From June 1 all Dutch mails between Holland and the Netherlands East Indies will be carried by air at 1½d. (about 3d.) for the first 10 grams (0.35 oz.), and if the sender prefers to send by boat he must expressly indicate it, and the rate will be 1½d. for the first 20 grams.

Belgium will send letters to countries abroad, by air without extra charge. France is about to introduce non-surcharge air mail throughout France.

In the British Empire scheme each participating country will fix its own postage rates on letters and postcards for the other participating countries.

The financial provision for the British Empire flat rate air mail scheme was announced last week. Subsidies for the operation of the services will total £20,000,000 over the fifteen years of the agreement, on a decreasing scale from £750,000 in the first year to £450,000 in the last year. In each of the years at least £185,000 will be paid by countries participating in the scheme, some of it to the British Government, some to Colonial air services co-operating with Imperial Airways.

LOSS OF £200,000 A YEAR

Not without loss can this great enterprise at first be fulfilled, but it is expected that this loss will not be more than £200,000 a year, and that the loss will decrease. The loss is regarded "as a reasonable outlay," as, indeed, it is. And what a proof of faith in the future of air transport, or rather,

Amur River Incident

Tokyo, July 3. The solution of the Amur River incident, in which Soviet gunboats clashed with Manchukuo troops, is received by various quarters here with satisfaction.

Observers point out, however, that the solution reached in Moscow between the Soviet Foreign Commissar, M. Maxim Litvinov, and the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Mamoru Shigemitsu, provides only for withdrawal of the Soviet troops and gunboats from the Senjutsu and Bolshoi Islets and restoration of the status quo ante.

This means, it is stated, maintenance of the eight lighthouses on the islands, by Manchukuo and the settlement of Manchukuoans on the island for farming or placer mining.

Observers are also of the opinion that further negotiations will be necessary between Japan and the Soviet regarding the question of title to the islets in question, in view of the Soviet's claim to them.

Both Japan and Manchukuo contend that the islets belong to Manchukuo, as was demonstrated by settlement there of Manchukuoans, in accordance with the technical waterways agreement reached between the Soviet and Manchukuo at Taiseihō last year.

Military circles in Tokyo state the opinion that it is necessary for Japan and Manchukuo to pursue an attitude of watchful waiting till the Soviet troops have evacuated the islets.

of the vindication of air transport now recognised even by cautious administrative and Post Office officials.

When the Empire air services are operated by the new flying boats and big highspeed land liners now being steadily put into operation there will be, weekly, two services to Sydney, two to Durban, three to Singapore, five to India, three to East Africa, and nine to Egypt.

At present the schedules are: to Cape Town, six to seven days; to Singapore, six to seven days; to Karachi, three to four days; and to Australia, ten days.

These eventually, when much flying will be done by night by the facilities already in an advanced stage, will be brought down to: Cape Town, 4½ days; Singapore, 4½ days; Karachi, 2½ days; Sydney, seven days.

CHARTERHOUSE ORGAN

Appeal "To Save A Priceless Work"

An appeal for a purchaser to save the magnificent Schuize organ in the old chapel at Charterhouse School from being broken up was made in a letter to the Editor of the "Morning Post" signed by Dr. Stanley Marchant, Principal of the Royal Academy of Music; Sir Walter G. Alcock, organist of Salisbury Cathedral; Mr. H. Goss Custard, organist of Liverpool Cathedral; the Rev. J. H. Burn, Rector of Whitfield; the Rev. Andrew Freeman, Vicar of Standish; and the Rev. Noel Bonavia-Hunt, Vicar-designate of Stagsden.

They point out that the organ was the last built by one of the greatest organ builders of all time, Edmund Schuize, and that its material value alone has been assessed by experts at £3,000. It has been in disuse because of the erection of a new chapel, for which it was unsuitable on account of its size and shape.

The organ consists of four manuals and fifty-two speaking stops, besides couplers and accessories, and it is available "at a price well below its material value," the writers add.

Here is an unparalleled opportunity for some church, contemplating the purchase of an organ, to acquire an instrument of outstanding beauty of tone.

"Those who are interested in the fate of this unique masterpiece should communicate at once with the Rev. Noel Bonavia-Hunt, Stagsden Vicarage, Bedford."

The writers add that their appeal is prompted solely by a sincere desire to rescue from imminent dissolution a priceless work of art.

Match Terminates Abruptly

The League baseball encounter between the Hong Kong Chinese and the Japanese ended after the second innings at Caroline Hill yesterday.

The cause for the discontinuation of the game was due to the decision of the umpire regarding a catch given in favour of the Japanese nine.

The Chinese, however, protested strongly and refused to go on with the match. The umpire awarded the game to the Japanese.

He was also bound over. Second and third defendants were each bound over.

ASSAULT CASE

Li Tsai, aged 35, Tsang Yau-man, aged 23, and Ho Kiu, aged 42, widow, appeared before Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Magistrate's court on Saturday on four charges of resisting arrest, assaulting the police and assaulting two foremen Ng Kwan, and Wai Tong.

All defendants denied the charges and pleaded that they were only lookers-on.

First defendant was fined $20 or six weeks imprisonment and an addition of three weeks hard labour without the option of a fine.

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE

Annual Prize-Giving Day

The Annual Prize-Giving Day of the St. Stephen's College was held at Stanley yesterday afternoon, when a large and representative gathering, including His Excellency The Officer Adminstrating The Government, Mr. N.L. Smith, C.M.G., who was accompanied by Mrs. Smith and Miss Judith Smith, was present.

The programme opened with a prayer conducted by the Reverend G. K. Carpenter, after which the Rt. Rev. Bishop R. O. Hall, Chairman of the College, made a brief speech of welcome to His Excellency. The Reverend E. W. L. Martin, Warden of the College, then presented his annual report after which His Excellency distributed the prizes.

The Warden, Rev. E.W.L. Martin, revealed in his report that a new preparatory school for small boys, is being built on a most beautiful site, facing South and West, which has been generously granted by the Government. It is located on a spur immediately above the School beach, catching all the summer breezes.

In addition there is a spacious and healthy play-field, next to the school site, which is a few minutes' walk from the College, situated on the new motor road from Stanley to Wong Ma Kok.

The small boys will be absolutely separated from the big College and will not mix at all with the big boys. There is electric-light cable nearby, and a new filtered water supply from Taitam Reservoir.

SYLLABUS

Mandarin will be taught. It is hoped to make Kuo Yu increasingly the medium of instruction.

A graded syllabus will be used, with modern text-books.

The subjects will include Chinese Literature, Composition, Writing, as well as Scripture, Citizenship, Geography, History and Arithmetic, and in addition Singing and Drawing. One lesson in English will be given each day by an English lady. Mandarin will be taught by one whose language is Mandarin. Great importance will be attached to good manners and behaviour, and great care will be paid to the health of the children.

FEES

The proposed fee for each boarder is $300 per annum. The above fee will be inclusive, covering board, lodging, tuition, laundry, sports, books and stationery, etc. Chinese dress or school uniform will be worn as it is proposed to run the school on simple and economical lines.

ACCOMMODATION

Accommodation is being provided for thirty boarders in the first instance, but plans are ready to extend the building, as soon as necessary, for a total of sixty boarders.

The age-limits suggested are eight to twelve years. Boys may enter either as boarders or day boys, but girls may only be day-pupils.

The date of opening will be Chinese New Year, 1938.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S SPEECH

In congratulating the graduates and prize winners, His Excellency said:—

I consider it a great privilege to have been invited to preside at today's prize giving, apart from the family connection which has been mentioned.

St. Stephen's College is in many ways unique in the Colony's educational system. Its founders deliberately set themselves to transplant in the unpromising soil of Hong Kong the acorn of an English public school, and now thirty years later it can fairly be said that the experiment was worth making and that the oak-tree is a fair approximation to the real thing.

You are also unique in preserving that sturdy independence that is such a characteristic of your English proto-types. Financially you have always stood on your own feet, so far as grants from the public funds are concerned, and this is a very real asset.

As regards your present glorious situation, again, it is needless to say that St. Stephen's College is in a class by itself.

EXCELLENT REPORT

I congratulate the Warden on his excellent report for the year. There is no need to enlarge on the School's achievements at work and play, but the account of the part which the old boys continue to take in the various civic activities in the Colony and in China deserve special mention. Such a state of affairs is only what one would expect from a school with the traditions and ideals of St. Stephen's College, but if I am expected to give any advice to the boys whose school life is now ending, I would urge them to maintain those traditions and to take their place on the boards and committees and councils which do so much to make Hong Kong a better place.

His Excellency the Officer Adminstrating The Government has appointed Mr. Tang Shiu-kin to be a Member of the Urban Council for a term of three years.

Pittsburgh Defeated

New York, July 2.
The Chicago Cubs continued to win in the National League to-day, though New York pounded close behind them.

Cubs defeated Pittsburgh in a heavy-hitting game, in which they were actually out-slugged by the Pirates. The Pirates hit 13, Suhr tallying a homer, but Galan, Demaree, Hartnett and Jorges all hit home runs for the Cubs, and swelled their 11 hits. The score was eight to seven.

New York was beating Boston, meanwhile, six to two, with 13 hits to seven. Giants had two errors, and Mancuso hit a home run.

Brooklyn blanked Philadelphia, scoring three runs on 11 hits. Hamlin allowed seven hits.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Di Maggio's homer did not help New York, who fell, after a long string of victories, before, Washington, eight to three.

Boston beat Philadelphia, Chapman and Mills hitting homers, and Peters circled the bases for the Athletics.

St. Louis defeated Chicago, four to two.

Detroit and Cleveland did not play, owing to the cold.—Reuter.

WIMBLEDON

London, July 2.
Queen Mary joined a large crowd at the Centre Court, Wimbledon, to-day, to see Donald Budge gain a surprisingly easy win over G. von Cramm, contesting his third successive men's singles final.

After 65 minutes play, Budge had won by 6-3, 8-4, 6-2. The American started shakily, and von Cramm went to two-love, but then his shots began to go out of court and Budge quickly asserted himself and polished off the set with the loss of but one more game.

Playing with rare confidence, Budge went to 3-1 in the second set, but ran up against an improved von Cramm for three games and was trailing 3-4. However, with Budge playing brilliantly, he found winners whenever he liked, and in the third set von Cramm could only win the second and seventh games.

G. P. Hughes and C. R. D. Tuckey, holders of the men's doubles championship, had an easy win over Roderick Menzel and L. Hecht of Czechoslovakia in the semi-final. The Englishmen won 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. Menzel experienced an off-day and could do nothing right. The winners played splendid tennis.

The English pair, Mrs. King and Mrs. Pittman followed up their victory over Miss Stammers and Miss James, by beating Mrs. Andrus of America and Mlle. Henrotin of France in the semi-final of the women's doubles.—Reuter.

ANOTHER WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN

Moscow, July 4.
Two Soviet airmen claimed to have reached the height of 15,100 feet in Gilder, which is the world's record. After battling with a snowstorm, the machine was smashed by a violent air current, and the airmen landed by parachute.—Reuter.

ITALO-GERMAN PROPOSALS

Berlin, July 3.
"Those who declined our proposal must accept the responsibilities for the situation."

So declared an official German spokesman to-day in connexion with the rejection of the Italo-German proposals in regard to non-intervention in Spain.

The spokesman added, however, that it was nevertheless a wise procedure to adjourn the discussions in London and gain a few days' respite.

CANNOT SEE MOTIVE

Disappointment and astonishment prevails in official circles over the latest developments.

The spokesman said: "We cannot see the motive for rapid rejection of the Italo-German proposals without close examination for our proposal, which had been thoroughly prepared in response to the invitation contained in the British Note."

"It is for others to carry the discussions a stage further. Preservation and strengthening of non-intervention is our foremost purpose," he concluded.—Reuter.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Significant Resolutions Adopted

Berlin, July 3.
Several significant resolutions were adopted by the International Chamber of Commerce at its concluding session here to-day, the most important concerning:

Reconstruction of the world economic structure, Return to the gold standard and International trade.

The International Chamber of Commerce is convinced that without peace, international trade cannot thrive nor can the standard of living be raised without restoration of a normal exchange of goods.

In the interests of the maintenance of peace, every nation may find itself compelled to make sacrifices conformably with its resources but, on the other hand, it is incontestable that the rearmament race endangers world peace and leads to lowering of the standard of living.

POLITICAL CONTROVERSY

Hence it is urgently necessary to reach a peaceful settlement of political controversies.

It is also necessary to recognise the differences that exist in natural resources, climatic and demographic conditions of the various countries in order to solve problems resulting from such differences.

Within the limits of possibility, every country should be granted admission to agricultural and industrial raw materials without any discrimination.

OPPORTUNITY RIPE

The present period of economic expansion is particularly favourable for treatment of the problem of barriers to international trade.

The resolution stresses that a serious setback must inevitably take place once the existing rearmament programmes have been completed, unless new sources of

40 HOUR WEEK

Hotel And Restaurant
Conflict.

Paris, July 3.
The first signs of compromise in the hotel and restaurant conflict over the introduction of the 40-hour week, appeared yesterday afternoon when the owners offered to reduce the working week of cooks from 54 to 52 hours and that of waiters from 60 hours to 58.

Negotiations between the Premier, M. Camille Chautemps, and the employers' delegations, which began yesterday "morning, continued throughout the afternoon without a solution being reached.

The evening newspapers point out that the dispute in the capital is already beginning to have repercussions in the provinces, and that should a strike be declared, it would not be confined to Paris alone.

LOCK-OUT THREAT

It is announced that all establishments represented on the Association of Hotels and the catering trade of Toulouse, have signified their intention to participate in a lock-out of employees if a settlement is not reached.

In Belfort, however, the hotel owners declare that they will not close their establishments because of the national cycling race, the "Tour de France," which is due to pass through Belfort to-day.—Transocean News Service.

PRES. ROOSEVELT'S REFORM BILL

Washington, July 2.
A complete Democratic substitute for President Roosevelt's Supreme Court Reform Bill came before the Senate to-day.

Senator Joseph Robinson, of Arkansas, leader of the Democratic majority in the Senate, explained the proposals would permit three appointments to the Supreme Court within the next months. He said the Bill was based on the theory of one appointment to the Court by a President each year, thus permitting two new justices to be added within that time, as well as an additional appointment to fill the existing vacancy.

It is proposed, too, to raise the retirement age to 75, provided additional judges can be appointed annually by the President for those who continued to serve after they have passed the retiring age.—Reuter.

production have been found meanwhile.

The Governments of all countries should therefore take the necessary steps to enforce these recommendations.

The resolution concerning currency affirms that the necessity exists for stabilisation of currencies on a gold basis.

RESUMPTION OF CREDIT

Gradual suppression of measures of compulsion, combined with steadfast endeavours to stabilise the currency, reopening of international credit and full development of international co-operation in currency matters, including solution of the problem of international debts of political origin, constitute the basis of the programme of restoration of rational currency conditions which in their turn will facilitate international trade as well as the migration of capital and diminution of international political tension.

The resolution welcomes the recent constructive development in the sphere of monetary policy and particularly endorses the general principles of the tri-partite declaration, to which six Governments are now adhering.

CURRENCY DEPRECIATION

It also associates itself with the hope that no currency depreciation would be undertaken in order to obtain unreasonable competitive exchange advantages, thereby hampering the effort to restore more stable economic relations.

The Chamber is of the opinion that the present official and semi-official impediments to foreign lendings should be removed.

RISING PRICES

The rise in commodity prices in recent months had helped in achieving a return to equilibrium, both internationally and within different countries.

The Chamber considered that a continuous approach towards fixity of exchange and development of international monetary of ment of international monetary co-operation, including a solution of the problem of international debts of political origin, constitute, with the points afore-mentioned, the fundamental basis of progressive restoration of a national monetary order.—Transocean News Service.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Report

Messrs. G. A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon on Saturday states:—
 Further slight improvement in values is shown this week in local shares, although business has been on a restricted scale, with sellers difficult to locate. So that buying orders, which preponderate, are by no means easy to fill. The Manila market continues to be listless and devoid of feature, whilst the turnover in mining shares has been negligible.

Hong Kong Docks continue popular and have been dealt in up to $34. They close firm at $34-34½. Providents (old) were actively supported up to $2½ buyers over. The "New" however have slipped back to 65 cts. Lights (old) were taken up to $14.60, but have since had sales at $14½ and there are further sellers. Cements are fractionally lower on the week at $15.60. Telephones (old) improved to $30½ cum. Trams are unchanged at $15.10. Electric's a shade better at $60½ and Sandakan Lights, without any sellers being attracted, are again better at $14½ bid.

Dairy Farms continue to advance and last business was done at $27½. Hotels were temporarily a better market up to $7.45, but sellers will now accept lower rates. Watsons are higher at $5½, Lands at $3½, Wharfs at $11½, and Realty at $6.45.

In the sterling section, Banks have shaded off to $1970 and Unions are also a few points down at $624. Cantons are $308 nominal and Hong Kong Fire $280. Bank of East Asia have buyers at $96. Raube have come down to $11½ ex dividend and New Goldfields of Venezuela to $5½.

Marsman Hong Kong China Ltd. are nominal at 6/3, but Marsman Investments (London) have taken a sharp rise to 27/6.

Philippine mining. We can say little about this section and that little is not flattering. From the activity of twelve months ago to the stagnation of to-day must be most disheartening for Manila operators. We fortunately have our local market, to which we would advise our readers to pay more attention, for it is inherently the sounder and offers greater opportunities, once it awakens from its summer lethargy.

Closing comment—Hong Kong steady to firm. Manila lacking interest.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

The following weekly market letter, dated June 26, has been forwarded us by Messrs. Ellis, Edgar & Co. of Manila.

A fairly firm and active market was witnessed when trading commenced for the week. During the middle of the week, however, slightly easier conditions prevailed with producers sustaining a resale, whilst non-producers continued to attract the attention of traders.

Batangas Minerals again recorded wide fluctuations but closed in disfavor after publication of an adverse report on this property by the Securities Commission. The action of the Commission in this case is commendable and should prevent further unjustifiable manipulations occurring in the market.

Towards the end of the period prices generally staged a rally with the Marikina issues showing the most favour. Developing a definite bullish trend, the market as a whole closed firm with many unsatisfied buyers in evidence.

Total sales for the week amounted to 52,465,295 shares, with an approximate value of P.6,994,769, as compared to 54,908,016 of an approximate value of P.9,973,186 for the previous week.

DIVIDENDS
 Atogon Mining Co. 7 1/2 per cent. payable July 15.

RECEPTION ABOARD JAPANESE CRUISER

He had special stress on the wish of Japan for real friendship with England, and has given several addresses on this subject during his tour, the last one being at Manila two weeks ago. Had the Ashigara been able to stay a little longer we might have had the pleasure of hearing the Professor speak in Hong Kong. Delightful parties such as this give a splendid opportunity for English and Japanese people to meet and get to know each other, and it would be impossible to find more kind and considerate hosts than those on board the Japanese cruiser yesterday. In spite of the weather a spirit of gaiety prevailed everywhere, healths were drunk in delicious sake, and the rain outside made all the guests inclined to prolong their visit as much as possible.

It was sad that the jujitsu display and doll exhibition could not be given in such wet weather, but none the less a most enjoyable afternoon was spent on board, and when they left each guest was presented with a beautifully illustrated booklet, and a very pretty set of coloured postcards as a souvenir of the occasion.

The Japanese cruiser departs tomorrow, but will carry with her the warmest good wishes from all those who have enjoyed the pleasure of meeting Rear Admiral Sonosuke Kobayashi and the officers of H. I. J. M. S. Ashigara. Prudence.

AN INTERVIEW

Impressions Of Coronation And Naval Review

When most of the guests had left the cocktail party on Saturday, Rear Admiral Kobayashi, in the residence of the Japanese Consul General, was prepared to discuss the impressions gained on his three months trip to Europe.

The Coronation celebrations in London, he said, and the Naval Review at Spithead are conviction to all those attending of the compactness of the British Empire and her naval strength.

The population and the Overseas guests to the Coronation showed heartfelt happiness, thus giving evidence of the love and loyalty to the Royal House in its greatest moment.

On his visit to Germany, when the cruiser Ashigara, passing through the Kiel Canal, anchored for one week in Kiel, and the Admiral with his staff paid a visit of four days to Berlin. Admiral Kobayashi said that its purpose was to bring the greetings of the Imperial Japanese Navy to the German Navy, and also the greetings of the whole Japanese nation to the German people.

Travelling on the Ashigara as cultural attaché to the cruiser was Professor Chikao Fujisawa, President of the All-Japanese Cultural Society "Nippon Bunka Renmei," famous in his country as philosopher and well-known in Germany for many works on cultural matters written in German. The professor not only fluently converses in German and English, but is also past master of Chinese, Russian and Spanish.

Professor Fujisawa, who is official adviser to the Japanese Navy, said that it would be the task of the immediate future, to bring about a close mutual understanding between the peoples of Germany and Japan, not limited upon diplomatic understandings.

An ardent supporter of the new National Movement in Japan, under the leadership of the new Premier, Prince Konohe, he stressed that the ultimate victory of this movement would bring about a more close understanding between Japan on one side and the European countries on the other.

Having worked for three in Geneva on the League of Nations, prior to Japan's withdrawal from this institution, the professor is well-informed on European affairs.

When in Germany, Professor Fujisawa lectured in Koeln and Koeln and Frankfurt, and had lengthy conversations with Dr. Goebbels and Herr Alfred Rosenberg, also visited the famous Dye Trust in Frankfurt am Main.—Lg.

C.N.A.C. EXTENSION

It is learned that on July 15, the China National Aviation Corporation will put on a big plane on their service between Canton and Shanghai and they intend to increase the present service of twice weekly to four times a week. Mr. Lam Wei-sang, general manager of the C.N.A.C., is returning to the North by one of the Corporation's planes next week and will call at every station en route.

INDECENT EXPOSURE

A fine of $3 or eight days imprisonment was imposed on each of six unemployed men who appeared before Mr. E. Hilmersworth at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court on charge of exposing their persons by bathing on the hill-sides near Tai Po Road, Kowloon.

NEW HONG KONG ORDINANCES

The "Gazette" contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Ordinances and Regulations of Hong Kong (1937 edition) Ordinance, 1936.

Certain administrative changes and the removal of the Prisons printing staff from Victoria to Stanley have made it necessary to defer arrangements for printing the new edition of the Ordinances and Regulations to be prepared under the Ordinance and Regulations of Hong Kong (1937 edition) Ordinance, 1936.

The object of this amending Bill is to include in the new edition legislation now in preparation or awaiting His Majesty's pleasure to be signed.

Clause 2 of this Bill enables legislation in force on January 1, 1936, to be included in the new edition by substituting that date for January 1, 1937, in sections 7 (1), 8, 11 (2), (a), 11 (2) (b) and 11 (2) (c) of the principal Ordinance, with consequential amendments in sections 10 (1) and 11 of that Ordinance.

CHILDREN'S SERVICE

The annual Children's service of the Hong Kong Union Church was postponed yesterday, owing to the heavy downpour of rain which prevented the children from attending. Instead, an ordinary Sunday School class and a short form of worship for those who turned up was held.

The annual service will take place again till after the school summer holiday which will be probably the beginning of September.
